

We can't do even the simple mazes where we can see where we're going. But since it's for YOU, we here at EternaTree® have designed the most difficult maze we could come up with. It's complex, it's hidden, it's EternaMazing!

There are thirteen interconnecting tunnels, most of which become dead ends. Even with the illustration right in front of you it takes a steady hand and a good kinesthetic sense (or a powerful magnet) to manipulate a 5/16th inch steel ball through the tunnels. If you're feeling especially daring, you can play with both balls at once.

As always, if any problem is found with this product, please call our 800 number and it will be replaced - no need to return the defective product (we have plenty already).
