Magnets on a Stick

Inventory

Assembly Instructions

1. Push one end of Stick (B) into hole in Base (A).
2. Put all ten Magnets (D-M) on Stick (B).
3. Place Ball (C) on Stick (B).

Operating Instructions

Grasp the stack of Magnets (D-M) between thumb and forefinger. Carefully raise the stack to top of Stick (B). Release and observe gravity at work. Repeat until bored (once should be enough!).

Now, remove Ball (C). Take top Magnet (D) from the stack, turn it over (to reverse the polarity), and put it back on the stick. Release Magnet (D) to observe magnetic forces resisting gravity.

There are literally millions of magnet combinations. Here are a couple of our favorites:

5x2

Make five sets of two magnets each. Put one set (D-E) on Stick (B). Place second set (F-G) on Stick (B) making sure its polarity opposes set (D-E). Place third set (H-I) on Stick (B) making sure it opposes set (F-G). Place fourth set (J-K) on Stick (B) making sure it opposes set (H-I). Place fifth set (L-M) on Stick (B) making sure it opposes set (J-K).

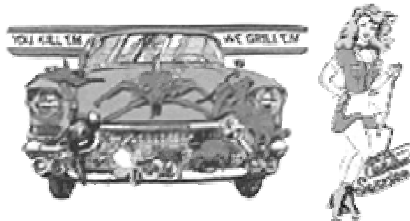

2x5

Make two sets of five magnets each. Put one set (D-E-F-G-H) on Stick (B). Place second set (I-J-K-L-M) on Stick (B) making sure its polarity opposes set (D-E-F-G-H).

If you're using a configuration that doesn't require all the magnets, put any extras on your refrigerator. To avoid scratching, use old take-out menus (we've included one of our favorites for your convenience).

Be careful not to pinch your fingers when handling magnets. Also, ceramic magnets are brittle and can break.

As always, if you have any difficulties assembling or operating our product, don't hesitate to call our 800 number.
